Do you know Jay?

Hello!

My name's Jay. I'm from Camden Town in London, the capital city of England. I am living in Sant Boi de Llobregat and this year I am the Language Assistant of Fundació Joan Bardina. I am twenty-three years old, nearly two meters tall, and I have one younger sister. I decided to come to Barcelona because I love teaching and I want to have a good time in Spain.

I studied English Literature and I have also worked as a writer, a football coach and a barman. In my free time I enjoy reading, listening to music and watching films. My favourite sport is football and I support Manchester United. My favourite band is Red Hot Chili Peppers, and my favourite author is Irvine Welsh, who wrote "Trainspotting". One day I would love to write a novel of my own.
